SPECIAL FELLOWSHIPS

NEXT GENERATION FELLOWSHIP

The Next Generation Fellowship Program nurtures outstanding thinkers and writers from a variety of fields who have the potential to become foreign policy leaders. The program recruits individuals whose principal mission will be frontier policy scholarship, leading to several major published articles or a book during the fellowship tenure. Most Next Generation Fellows (NGFs) are in residence for two or three years. Each year, one NGF who combines a keen understanding of economics with his or her cutting-edge policy research is named the Dillon Fellow, in honor of former Council Vice Chairman Douglas Dillon.

INTELLIGENCE FELLOWSHIP

This fellowship provides an opportunity for an outstanding person from the U.S. intelligence community on the cusp of a senior position to expand his or her knowledge of international relations through study, research and reflection, extensive participation in the Council's program of meetings and study groups, and interaction with the Council's diverse and knowledgeable members.
MILITARY FELLOWSHIPS
Each year the chief of staff of each military service nominates an outstanding candidate for a military fellowship. The fellowships enable officers to broaden their understanding of international affairs and U.S. foreign policy by spending a year in residence at the Council. Fellows participate in Council programs, including Task Forces, engage in research, and arrange several politico-military trips for Council members.

EDWARD R. MURROW FELLOWSHIP
The Council offers a resident fellowship for a correspondent, editor, or producer involved with international news. Named in honor of Edward R. Murrow and funded by the CBS Foundation, the fellowship offers a nine-month period for sustained study and writing, free from the pressures that characterize journalistic life.

WHITNEY H. SHEPARDSON FELLOWSHIP
The Shepardson Fellowship is periodically awarded to persons with recognized professional stature in public or academic affairs related to international relations. A Shepardson fellow is expected to spend about a year affiliated with the Council, participating in Council programs while working on a book or other significant publication on a major foreign policy issue.

CYRUS VANCE FELLOWSHIP IN DIPLOMATIC STUDIES
The Vance Fellowship is offered to a Foreign Service Officer chosen by a selection committee from candidates nominated by the U.S. Department of State. With time away from the day-to-day pressures of diplomatic life, the Vance fellow spends about a year affiliated with the Council, reflecting on issues of foreign policy and participating in Council programs.

LECTURESHIPS
THE ARTHUR C. HELTON MEMORIAL LECTURE
The Arthur C. Helton Memorial Lecture was established this year by the Council and the family of Council Senior Fellow Arthur C. Helton, who died in the August 19, 2003, bombing of the UN headquarters in Baghdad. The Arthur C. Helton Memorial Lecture will be an annual event at which one or more speakers will address pressing issues in the broad field of human rights and humanitarian concerns.

THE JOHN B. HURFORD MEMORIAL LECTURE
The John B. Hurford Memorial Lecture was inaugurated in 2002 in memory of John B. Hurford, a devoted member of the Council on Foreign Relations. This series features individuals who represent critical new thinking in international affairs and foreign policy. This year John Mueller, a professor of political science at Ohio State University, and Max Boot, the Council’s Olin senior fellow, national security studies, spoke on “America’s Role in the World.”

THE RUSSELL C. LEFFINGWELL LECTURE
The Leffingwell Lecture, inaugurated in 1969, was named for a charter member of the Council who served as its president from 1944 to 1946 and as its chairman from 1946 to 1953. This lecture is given by a distinguished foreign official, who is invited to address Council members on a topic of major international significance. The lectures are made possible through the generosity of the Leffingwell family and the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company. The Leffingwell Lecture this year featured President Mikhail Saakashvili of Georgia.

THE DAVID A. MORSE LECTURE
The David A. Morse Lecture was inaugurated in 1994 and supports an annual meeting and dinner with a distinguished speaker. It honors the memory of David A. Morse, an active Council member for nearly thirty years, a lawyer, a public servant, and an internationalist. Lecturers are invited to focus on one of Morse’s many concerns, which included North-South relations, human rights, international organizations and labor, conflict resolution, and relations with Asia. The lecture program is funded by gifts from Council members and friends of the Morse family. This year, UN Secretary General Kofi Annan focused on the UN and global security in the twenty-first century.

THE DAVID ROCKEFELLER LECTURE
The David Rockefeller Lecture was endowed by the Rockefeller Foundation in 1985 for an annual African lecturer from either the governmental or the non-governmental sector. President Joaquim Chissano of Mozambique spoke this year.

THE ELIHU ROOT LECTURE
The Elihu Root Lecture was inaugurated in 1958 to honor a founder of the Council on Foreign Relations who served as its honorary president from 1921 to 1937. This lecture brings a distinguished American to the Council to reflect on his or her professional experience and how it applies to the making of contemporary American foreign policy. This year, the Root Lecture featured General Richard B. Myers, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

THE RUSSIA AND RUSSIAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS LECTURE
This lecture was endowed in 2003 by the Alfa Bank to help establish a more secure footing for Russian-American relations.

THE BERNARD L. SCHWARTZ LECTURE ON BUSINESS AND FOREIGN POLICY
This lecture series was established in 2002 and is funded by Bernard L. Schwartz, the chairman and CEO of Loral Space and Communications. The series focuses on two areas: the evolution of the relationship between business and government in the making of foreign policy, and ways for government to make better use of business in solving foreign policy problems and for business to become more engaged in the making of foreign policy. Thomas L. Friedman of the New York Times presided this year when Jagdish N. Bhagwati, the Council’s André Meyer senior fellow in international economics, discussed his highly acclaimed book, In Defense of Globalization.

THE SORENSEN DISTINGUISHED LECTURE ON THE UNITED NATIONS
The Sorensen Distinguished Lecture on the United Nations was established in 1996 by Theodore C. Sorensen to honor his wife, Gillian Martin Sorensen, and to commemorate her years of service to the United Nations. This year the Sorensen lecture—given by speakers intimately involved with the workings and issues of the United Nations—was titled “Why Bother with Diplomacy?” and featured Sir Kieran Prendergast, the UN undersecretary-general for political affairs.

THE JOHN TRAIN LECTURE
The John Train Lecture and dinner was established in 1997. Funded by Council member John Train, the series focuses on new issues in military affairs and the future of the U.S. military.

THE PAUL C. WARNKE LECTURE
The Paul C. Warnke Lecture, endowed by a number of Council members, family and friends, commemorates Warnke’s legacy of courageous service to the nation and international peace.
